The Utah State Office of Education and Dr. Julie Wolter, Present Utah's Oral Language Models for Trainer of Trainers

The purpose of this institute is to provide support for delivering Oral Language classroom instruction in alignment with the Utah Elementary Language arts Core Curriculum. The institute will provide district/charter school leaders with oral language models for grades K-3. An accompanying CD will provide video demonstrations of appropriate oral language classroom instruction with accompanying materials for each participating district and charter school participant.

The institute will focus on the five main areas of oral language, which includes: phonology, semantics, syntax, morphology, and pragmatics. Specifically, language development links to written language, and evidence-based classroom language facilitation practices will be presented and discussed in each of the language areas. This is a Trainer of Trainers professional development opportunity for district and charter school leaders to be trained then provide on-going training at their local sites. Attendees should select appropriate modules and dates to attend per their district/charter school needs.
